

Energy & Earth Science

The most popular recent articles in your field published by Germany-based authors

Dear Dr Parteli,

As a thank you for contributing to Aeolian Research, we are pleased to bring you ScienceDirect's 10 most downloaded Energy & Earth Science articles published since 1 January 2014 by authors based in Germany. These articles - if not already available via open access licenses - are freely available to download and share until 15 January 2016.

We hope that these articles provide a useful overview of the latest research in your field. They are only a small sample of the 13 million publications available via Elsevier's ScienceDirect platform, used by over 15 million people worldwide.

We look forward to receiving your next submission.

Kind regards

Nicoline van der Linden M. Sc.
Senior Vice President, Marketing Communications & Researcher Engagement
