

65th MSS-Seminar

Wednesday, November. 12th, 14:30, Nägelsbachstr. 49b

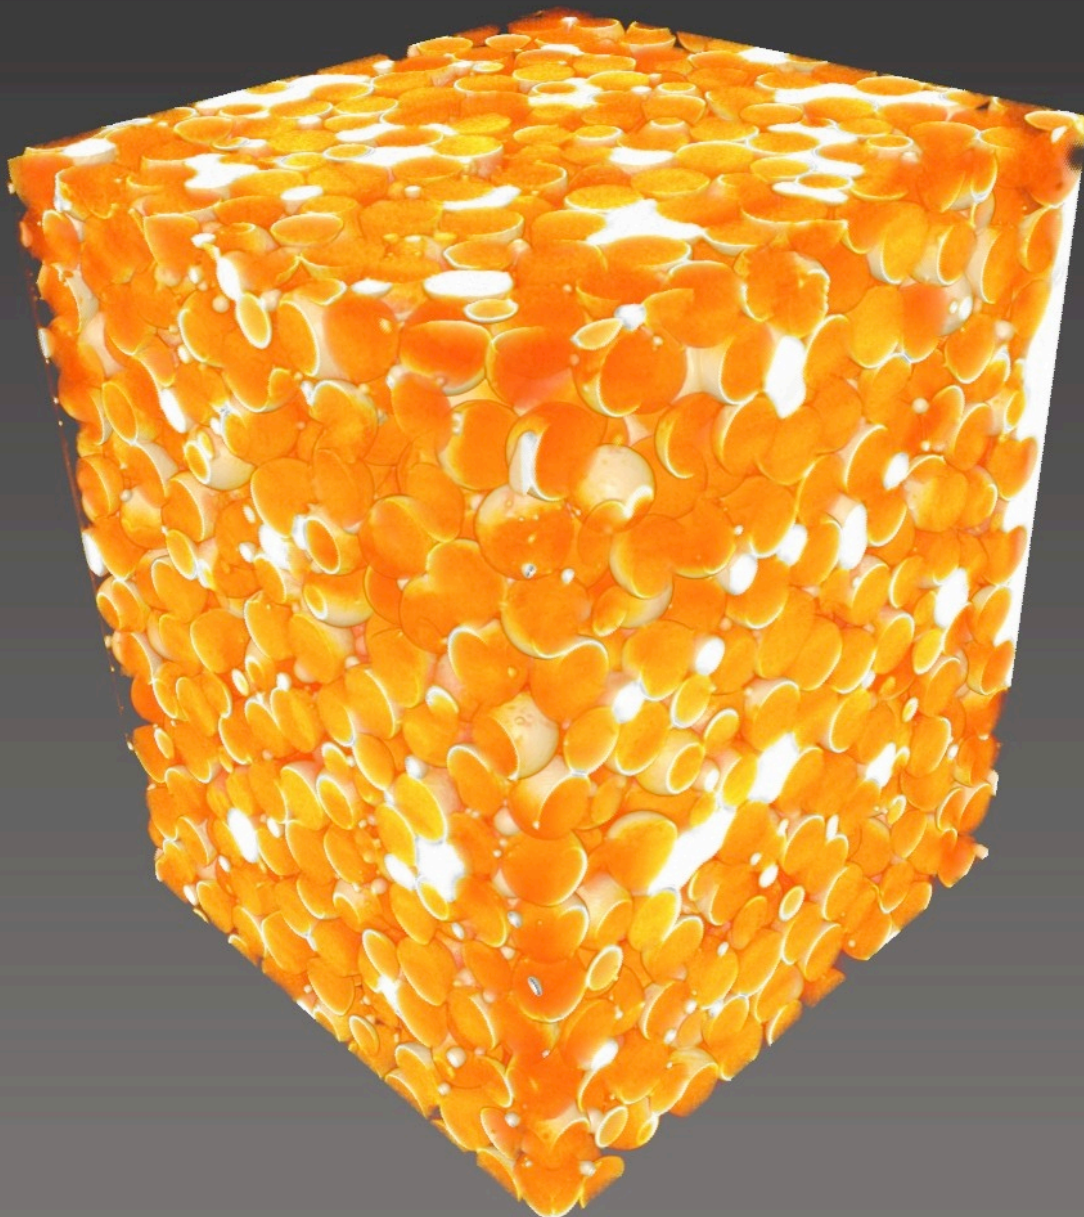

MSS

The bigger picture of local granular physics

Matthias Schröter

Max-Planck-Institut für Dynamik und Selbstorganisation, Göttingen

Granular matter is not only ubiquitous in our daily lives, it is also at the intersection of a number of interesting scientific problems. This talk will discuss some recent results on two phase flow in granular matter, the mechanical properties of granular matter, and patterns formed by granular matter.